

Celebratory Balloon Launch Activity

The person at your table with the most unusual ring on their finger reads these instructions and keeps everyone on task.

- Every person chooses a balloon, blows it up and ties it with it a knot. Help each other if difficult.
- On your balloon, write with black felt pens provided (you will need to share pens), one or two "messages" you heard today or elsewhere about the importance of the main topic - it might be a fact, an opinion, an impression or an insight you discovered or had reinforced.
- Share your thought with someone at the table.
- Wait for the COUNT-DOWN to launch all the balloons simultaneously. Once launched, catch one and read it.
